Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure

On June 13, 2018, RH (the “Company”) issued a press release announcing the pricing of $300 million aggregate principal amount of 0.00% convertible notes due 2023. The Company has also granted the initial purchasers of the notes a 13-day option to purchase up to an additional $50 million of the notes on the same terms and conditions, for a total potential offering size of up to $350 million. The full text of the press release is furnished hereto as Exhibit 99.1.

As discussed in the attached press release, in connection with the offering of the notes, the Company entered into convertible note hedge and warrant transactions with several financial institutions (the “hedge counterparties”).

The Company has been advised that, in connection with establishing their initial hedge positions with respect to the convertible note hedge and warrant transactions, the hedge counterparties and/or their affiliates may purchase shares of the Company’s common stock or enter into various derivative transactions with respect to the Company’s common stock concurrently with, or shortly after, the pricing of the notes, including with certain investors in the notes. These hedging activities could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) the market price of the Company’s common stock or the notes.

In addition, the hedge counterparties and/or their affiliates may modify any hedge positions (and are likely to do so during the conversion period related to any conversion of notes or following any repurchase of notes by the Company on any fundamental repurchase date or otherwise) by entering into or unwinding various derivatives with respect to the Company’s common stock or purchasing or selling common stock or other securities of the Company in secondary market transactions following the pricing of the notes and prior to the maturity of the notes. These activities could also cause or avoid an increase or a decrease in the market price of the Company’s common stock or the notes, which could affect a noteholder’s ability to convert the notes and, to the extent the activity occurs during any observation period related to a conversion of the notes, it could affect the amount and value of the consideration that a noteholder will receive upon conversion of the notes.

The information furnished with this report, including Exhibit 99.1, shall not be deemed “filed” for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference into any other filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

RH ANNOUNCES PRICING OF $300 MILLION CONVERTIBLE NOTES OFFERING

Corte Madera, CA – June 13, 2018 – RH (NYSE: RH) today announced the pricing of $300 million of 0.00% convertible notes due 2023 at a 25% conversion premium to today’s closing stock price of $154.92. RH also granted the initial purchaser of the notes a 13-day option to purchase up to an additional $50 million of the notes on the same terms and conditions, for a total potential offering size of up to $350 million. The sale of the notes to the initial purchaser is expected to settle on June 18, 2018, subject to customary closing conditions.

In connection with the offering of the notes, RH has entered into convertible note hedge and warrant transactions on terms that have the effect of limiting earnings dilution as a result of the convertible notes issuance up to a 100% premium to today’s closing stock price. Under the terms of these transactions, the Company’s shareholders are not expected to experience earnings dilution until the Company’s stock price is above approximately $309.84. The Company intends to use the proceeds of the offering to pay the net cost of the convertible note hedge transactions and to pay down the outstanding borrowings under the Company’s credit facility and other interest bearing debt on the balance sheet.

The notes will not bear interest and will mature on June 15, 2023, unless earlier purchased by us or converted. The initial conversion rate is 5.1640 shares of common stock per $1,000 principal amount of notes, which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $193.65 per share representing a premium of 25% over today’s closing stock price. The notes will be convertible into cash, shares of RH’s common stock, or a combination thereof, at RH’s election.

This press release does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any state or jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such state or jurisdiction. The notes and the shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes, if any, will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Act”) or any state securities laws, and unless so registered, may not be offered or sold in the United States except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Act and applicable state laws.
